I obtained my LL.B degree in Law, in the course of which I was a member of the Faculty of Law's Moot and Mock Society and the Alternative Dispute Resolution Society. I was also a member of the Teslim Olawale Elias Chambers, where I served as an electoral officer in the electoral committee on two occasions, one of which I was made the head of the Electoral committee that successfully conducted one of the freest and fairest elections in the chambers. I was also a student clinician in the Women's law clinic of the faculty of law, where I was involved in client interaction, and also participated in an outreach to create awareness to the public. During my study at the University of Ibadan, I was a member of the National Association of Edo State Students (NAESS), where I served as the General Secretary of the Association, organizing bimonthly meetings and taking down the minutes.
